Labor Leaders Appear in Advocacy of a Bill Therefor.

Washington, March 23.—President Gompers of the Federation of Labor, C. S.Darrow of Chicago and others identified with organized labor appeared to-day before the judiciary committee of the House in advocacy of the bill re-stricting the issuance of injunctions in time of labor disturbance. Mr. Darrow stated that the working considered this resort to injunc tion a flagrant infringement of their rights which had grown to an alarming extent of late. Commencing with the great Chlcago strike, he said, when Debs was arrested, down to the present time, the first act in the case of a strike was to rush to the courts for an injunction. He cited the Debs case as typical, and related how a "blanket injunction" was issued against a large number of those connected with the American Railway union.

Mr. Gompers urged that the labor interests wanted to retain the tabor in-terests wanted to retain the time hon-ored trial by jury. They insisted, he said, that there should be no injunction in a labor dispute, for labor had no remedy when the injunction was once issued.

Prominent Kentucky Republicans See the President.

Contest in the State Will Not be Settled Short of a Supreme Court Decision.

Washington, March 23 .- Col. Andrew Cowan, a merchant of Louisville, Ky., Samuel J. Roberts, editor of the Lexington Leader, and John Marshall, Republican lieutenant governor of the State, all prominent Republicans, and friends of Gov. Taylor, called at the White House today and had half hour's conversation with the President on the situation in Kentucky. On leaving the White House they stated that they called on Mr. McKinley for the sole purpose of explaining to him the exact situation in the State and what had led up to the present conditions of affairs.

They said that they assured the President that they did not want federal troops to be sent to the State or any federal interference whatever. They had not asked for a congressional inask for one, as the did not want it. On February 21, the principal parties in interest had sixted an agreement by which each party agreed to submit the questions involved to the courts for a final determination and to abide by their decision. This agreement, it is said, stipulated that either party feeling aggrieved night appeal from the lower court to the court of appeals and then to the Supreme court of the Unit-ed States. This part of the agreement, it was said, read as follows:

"Should any party after the final de-termination of the causes by the court of appeals desire a writ of error to the Supreme court of the United States to review such determination, it is agreed that such writ shall be immediately applied for and diligently prosecuted, secured, and that all parties to said causes will unite in an application to said federal Supreme court to docket and advance said causes and to give them the earliest hearing and determination possible.

Cowan and his associates claim the Goebel partisans have done a number of things which indicated that they were not acting in good faith. Nevertheless they did not expect any serious clashing, but on the contrary believed that all of the interests involved would abide by the decision of the Supreme court of the United States. It was not at all probable that either party would be satisfied with anything short of a decision by the highest court in the land.

CUT OFF TARIFF FEATURE. SHOT THAT KILLED GOEBEL

Opponents Will Seek Delay - Puerto Rico Appropriation Bill Taken Up.

[Afternoon Dispatches.]

Washington, March 23 .- The Republican caucus committee of the Senate today authorized Senator Foraker in definite terms to propose the separation of the tariff feature from the Puerto Rican governmental bill, and to attempt to pass the House tariff bill without amendment.

The program is to vote down all, if possible to do so, and pass the bill as it came from the House without any changes whatever.

The committee went over the situation in detail, considering all the points at issue. There were suggestions as to the necessity of amending the bill so as to suit the demands of the Republican free trade element, but they were considered as more than offset by the situation in the House, and the necessity of maintaining the party tariff princi-

The opinion was strongly expressed that any changes whatever in the House bill would endanger its acceptance by that body, and in the end this fact controlled the committee's de-

There was, however, disposition manifested to placate the free traders by making various amendments to the governmental bill. The tariff advocates have gone so far as to draft amend-ments to that measure which are in-tended both to correct administrative defects in the House bill and also to meet many of the objections to the House tariff measure. One of these amendments looks to the enlargement of the free trade list so as to include most of the articles of export in which the constituents of the free trade senators are interested. There is also a proposition looking to the entire removal of the duty on articles from the United States going into Puerto Rico.
The action of the conference was soon made known to the free traders, and it soon became evident that they were not satisfied with the situation. A hurried conference was called in Senator Proctor's committee room, which was attended by about ten senators. These included only the ironbound free traders, but others who have not yet taken a decided position against all Puerto Rico tariff propositions. They did not enter into any de-tailed discussion of the proposition of the steering committee, but contented themselves with a decision to oppose any proposition looking to the fixing a time to vote on the House tariff bill or the Senate governmental bill. were unanimously of the opinion that delay meant gain for the cause in the public good will and in the Senate. canvass of the Republican senators was made with the result, it was stated, that fifteen could be found who would oppose hasty action. The Senate has adopted the conference report on the Puerto Rican bill. The vote stood 35 to 15.

[Afternoon Dispatches.] Washington, March 23 .- Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho continued his testimony in the Coeur d'Alene investigation today, being cross-examined by F. C. Robertson, attorney for those prosecuting the charges. The governor stated that if any arrests were made prior to the issuance of his proclamation it was with his authorization and approval and because of his general authority as chief executive of the State. Before Gen. Merriam went to the scene of disorder the governor had a talk with him and told him to take such steps as were necessary to maintain order,

When further questioned as to just who was responsible for arrests, Gov. Steunenberg said: "I assume responsibility for every ar-

Prematurely Born Babe Picked Up on Seventh South.

FOUND BY SOME SMALL BOYS

Viewed by City Physician King, who Decided that an Inquest was Unnecessary-Police on the Case.

Residents in the vicinity of the Rapid

Transit power house on Seventh South street were horrified at a gruesome discovery in the neighborhood this morning. The find was made by a party of small boys while playing in the street. They were engaged in a game of marbles when one of them sighted an object not far away that attracted his attention. On going to it his youthful mind became considerably wrought up at finding that the object was the body of an unclothed prematurely born infant. The boys immediately ran to the power house and informed some of the men of their discovery. The police station was promptly communicated with and Officer Davies dispatched to the scene on his wheel. This gentleman instituted a searching inquiry but elicited nothing in addition to what has been stated, and wrapping the diminutive remains of the hapless little one in a mains of the hapless little one in a piece of coarse paper remounted his bicycle and rode back to the station where he reported to Chief Hilton. A conference was held and various prognostications as to the maternity of the babe ventured, but nothing definite was ascertained. The police, however, are at work on the case in the hope of solving the mystery in which it is shrouded. The names of two young women residing in the southwestern part of the city were suggested by the part of the city were suggested by the officers, in their efforts to locate the heartless mother. depart unpunished.

M. G. Manby and A. Monroe of Lawrence, Kansas, today filed a suit in the federal court against Ezra D. Haskins et al of this city. It is alleged in the complaint that defendants on the first day of October, 1894, mortgaged their property to G. W. E. Griffith of Kan-sas for the sum of $4.500 together with interest, the note to be paid on October 1st, 1899. On November 8th, 1899, Griffith transferred the mortgage to the plaintiffs, and inasmuch as the de-fendants have falled to comply with the agreement, the plaintiffs' suing for a foreclosure, with interest at 8 per cent, all of which amounts to $4,680. The property involved is described as lots 28-9 and 40, block 1, of Perkins
